

Report of September Meeting

Our September meeting was transformed into a sewing bee, under the guidance of Alma Harding. Using a humbug-shaped stuffed base, and a few scraps of coloured fabrics and pins, Alma conjured up a colourful patchwork cockerel . Each member was given a base, and having got out our needles and pins – we were off! It wasn't long before there was a happy buzz as we chatted whilst we worked.

Mary Seward started the business part of the meeting by saying how indebted she felt to all the members who had played their part so admirably, in making the coffee morning on September 6th, such a resounding success. Barbara Woodsford gave us the glad news that, after deductions for expenses, we had raised £441 for our funds.

Members and visitors are asked to note on their calendars that the date of the December meeting has been changed from December 11th to 4th. We shall look forward to going to the Yeoman's Acre at Colyford for our Christmas dinner on the evening of the 11th.

Next month we shall be considering our plans for next year. Ideas for the programme, and offers of members willing to stand for the committee will be gratefully received.

Flower of the Month was won jointly by Mary Nowell and Barbara Woodsford, and Joy Churchill won the competition for a thimble.
